Plett Shark Spotters

It's that time of year again when we start keeping our eyes peeled for the arrival of white sharks in Plettenberg Bay! In 2024, our first sighting was in May, with activity peaking around September. Robberg remains a truly special place, one of the few spots where you can witness these apex predators cruising just metres from shore, right alongside the mountain. Recently, four white sharks were tagged along the east coast and eight in Mossel Bay. Shark Spotters are now operating daily from 07:00 to 18:00 at five beaches: Lookout Beach, The Wedge, Central Beach, Robberg 1, and The Wreck. Lifeguards will raise the white shark flag if a shark has been seen within the past hour.

Probus – What is it?

The Plett Probus Club is a local association of retired or semi-retired professional or business people who have similar levels of interest, are of good character and are respected in the community. The objectives of Probus include: To stimulate thought, interest and participation in a variety of activities and to create opportunity to make new friends at a stage in life when folk have both the need and the time. As a Probian, you will find membership interesting and satisfying, but what is more important, you will meet and enjoy the fellowship of a group of similarly minded folk, who, like yourself, are expanding their interest and extending their friendships. We have regular meetings either for an informal breakfast or a luncheon during which a presentation on popular current day topics of interest is given at venues in and around Plett. Strandloper Project

Marine Wildlife Strandings in the Garden Route.

If, while enjoying your time on the beach and shoreline, you encounter a stranded species of marine wildlife, please contact your local Marine Stranding organization.

WHAT TO DO IF YOU FIND A TURTLE.

1) Do not return it to the ocean. It has stranded as it is either weak, ill, tired or has ingested plastic. 2) Do not place it in a container of water. Turtles are air breathing and can drown if weak and tired. 3) Keep it in a dry, ventilated and room temperature box, preferably placing the turtle on a towel. 4) Contact the turtle rescue number or the local marine stranding organization. 5) Get a location pin

WHAT TO DO IF YOU FIND A LIVE SEAL.

1) Do not try and chase it into the water - it is either tired, undernourished or weak and wants to rest. 2) Create a safe zone around it and prevent dogs and crowds from approaching it. 3) Call your local marine stranding organization. 4) Take a location pin to share with the rescuers.

WHAT TO DO IF YOU FIND A PENGUIN

1) Do not try and chase it into the water - it is either tired, undernourished or weak and wants to rest. 2) Create a safe zone around it and prevent dogs and crowds from approaching it. 3) Call your local marine stranding organization. 4) Take a location pin to share with the rescuers. 5) After you have spoken to a marine animal rescuer, and they request you to collect the Penguin, follow their instructions on how to handle it and where to take it. Please be aware that they have extremely sharp beaks and need to be handled with care and cautiously.

WHAT TO DO IF YOU FIND A DOLPHIN

1) Check for any obvious injuries. 2) Report to the local marine stranding organization and provide a detailed report of condition and location. 3) Unless advised by the stranding organization, do not attempt to return the dolphin to the ocean. Keep it cool by placing wet towels over it and wetting the towels about every 10 minutes. 4) Reduce any stress from dogs and crowds.

We are urging the public to leave tortoises where they are found. We are very concerned about the increasing number of reports received via our hotline from members of the public who have witnessed individuals stopping along roadsides to remove tortoises and load them into vehicles.

Tortoises crossing a road is not lost, it is simply crossing the road that wasn't there before, trying to get to habitats and resources it needs and knows. Please don't take them home, you think you are doing the right thing!! It's not only illegal to remove them from it's natural habitat, you are also signing its death warrant.

ened and removing them from the wild harms conservation efforts.

They require special care and environments that are difficult to replicate in captivity, leading to poor health and shorter lives.

Wild tortoises in captivity suffer from stress, which causes natural, normally dormant, disease agents such as viruses, bacteria, internal and/or external parasites like ticks, to come to the fore. This inevitably leads to disease.

Even if they survive all of the above, you run the risk of genetically contaminating resident populations.

Meanwhile, runny nose syndrome spreads like wildfire in the otherwise healthy local population, and before long, nature conservators are confronted with serious losses in the local tortoise population.

You need to have a permit from nature conservation authorities to collect, transport or to keep a tortoise in South Africa.

Tortoises may seem like a hassle-free, cute pet, but did you know that keeping tortoises without a permit is not only illegal, but could be detrimental to the animal's well-being?

Tortoises are a protected species under South African law. The public must familiarise themselves with the law before picking up a tortoise and taking it home. Ignorance of the law is not a defence. Removing, transporting, or keeping tortoises without the required permits is illegal and constitutes a criminal offence. Individuals found in possession of tortoises may face severe fines or imprisonment - "nobody is above the law".

If you see or suspect that someone has collected, is transporting or keeping tortoises illegally. Try and provide WCIN - Wildlife Crime Information Network with the following info:

- Details of vehicle (reg no, make, colour)
- Address (street name, street no)
- Direction travelling
- Photo or video (if possible)
- Location (pin dropped)

Report Crimes via our HOTLINE:
Whatsapp or call: 079 643 9556 or email report@wcin.org.za (all information provided will be treated as confidential).

We have a great responsibility as South Africans to protect our indigenous wildlife from abuse and to ensure they are sustained and kept for future generations and the sustainability of the species.

Let's take hands and work together to wildlife crimes & trafficking.
