A word fitly spoken is like

APPLES OF GOLD in a setting of silver-Proverbs 25v11

Today we continue with our reflection on the Beatitudes [Matthew chapter 5] with specific emphasis on the 5th Beatitude: Blessed are the merciful, for they will be shown mercy. The Chambers dictionary explains mercy as 'a good thing regarded as derived from God'. In his excellent book on the Beatitudes John Blanchard introduces us to three Greek equivalents of mercy each with their own distinct meaning. 1 Oiktimos: meaning compassion for the suffering of others; In 2 Corinthians 1v3 it speaks about God as 'The father of compassion [Oiktimos] and the God of all Comfort. 2 Splagchnon : In classic Greek it was used to refer to the upper viscera of animals; the heart, lungs and the liver denoting deep inner feelings of affection and compassion . Matthew 9:36. When Jesus saw the crowds, he had compassion [Splagchnon] on them, because they were harassed and helpless, like sheep without a shepherd. 3 Eleeo : Stronger than the previous two and this is the word used by Jesus in this beatitude. Blessed are the merciful, [Eleeo] for they will be shown mercy. It speaks not only to how one is moved by someone's misery, but what one does to relieve or reduce or to remove the cause of the misery. Notice how John challenges the church [all believers] in 1 John 3v17-18. If anyone has material possessions and sees a brother or sister in need but has no pity on them, how can the love of God be in that person? Dear children, let us not love with words or speech but with actions and in truth. There is more from James when he says in James 2v14-17 What good is it, my brothers and sisters, if someone claims to have faith but has no deeds? Can such faith save them? Suppose a brother or a sister is without clothes and daily food. If one of you says to them, "Go in peace; keep warm and well fed," but does nothing about their physical needs, what good is it? In the same way, faith by itself, if it is not accompanied by action, is dead. In essence James is saying that showing mercy [Eleeo] to the poor and needy is a hallmark of true conversion. The implication is that if we are lacking in this area, something I have often felt, then we need to go back and evaluate the genuineness of our faith. In Rom 5:8 Paul writes But God demonstrates his own love for us in this: While we were still sinners, Christ died for us This verse is profoundly important because God in Christ has shown us the ultimate mercy [Eleeo] The Historian FJ Foakes Jackson points out how the Message motivated the Mercy. History has shown that the thought of Christ on the cross has been more potent than anything else in arousing a compassion for suffering and indignation at justice. It caused its adherents to take the front rank as champions of the weak; prison reform, the factory acts, abolition of the slave trade, the protection of children, the crusade against cruelty to animals. They are all the outcome of the evangelical revival of the 18th century. Some of the names you will recognise are Elizabeth Fry, William Wilberforce, Thomas Barnardo and Jean Henri Dunant- the founding father of the Red Cross. The primary motivation to show mercy is motivated by the mercy that we ourselves have received from God!

Finally Keep yourselves in God's love as you wait for the mercy of our Lord Jesus Christ to bring you to eternal life- Jude v21. With Christian Love Anton van Stormbroek

A PRIVATE BUSINESS -WHAT IT WORTH?

Wow! How things have changed since Covid -19 turned the world on its head. In the "old days" private businesses were generally run by entrepreneur's and changed hands between individuals of similar character.

Putting a price on a business traditionally revolved around balance sheets and projections. Sellers wanted a return for past efforts and future profits and sellers wanted a return on investment.

To a large degree that's out of the window. Thousands of private business of all sizes have collapsed making history and projections meaningless. The business owners focus on profit has given way to a focus on survival and cash flow.

At the same time countless educated individuals used to the security of corporate employment, have now to find alternative ways to conserve savings as jobs and salaries disappear.

Right now, business owners and potential new owners need to find each other and agree on a way to survive the crisis and both benefit when the economy finally recovers.

Neither buyers nor sellers are in a position to take a chance. The seller has to know he will get paid and the buyer has to know the
