CHATTERBOX – BY THE TIME YOU READ

By the time you read this, I will be back in Plett, but I need to tell about my age and packing. It used to be a piece of cake. I knew exactly what I wanted to take and where it was. I could whizz through a packing session for a month's holiday and be finished in nine minutes. Bear in mind at this age my lists are endless and everywhere. Packing now takes about nine days for two weeks away. It starts with a free standing rail onto which I put almost everything in my cupboard, which I don't realise until I look around for the other things. Then I start packing underwear, bras, brooks etc. onto the dressing room table which is 1.5m x 1m, when it's full I feel insecure and go through the drawers again. Shoes are a must so I line them along the sides of the little table. Into the bathroom and scrounge around until I have filled the top of the bathroom top cupboards. Ah, jewellery of which I wear very little normally, but going away must have the bling. Another cupboard top. I then refer to the lists and faint. Way too much out, what is not necessary? Beloved says take half of each pile and put in a locked cupboard. Go through the balance of the stuff, now I'm short of things. This is a nightmare!!!!!! Back to the lists and start crossing off the things I did list and put in a separate pile. Now the pile looks too small. Damn and do I really need fifteen pairs of shoes, so remove half of them. Gee I seem to be making progress. The suitcase is now open and ready to pack. No way, another great reduction must take place. By now I have cleaned every cupboard and drawer that I have removed things from and am exhausted. Finally as much as possible is squashed into my suitcases and I'm still fretting "what have I left?" Beloved staggers to the car and when I arrive in Durban, my sister's first words are always "are you coming to live with us?" When I start unpacking I can already see what was left behind, and when I go home the cases still have most of the stuff unused, but I never learn

Don't forget to keep an eye out on Facebook for what's new and exciting in Metelerkamp's, stock's arriving every day. 0443820274

He aint Heavy, he's my Brother
"So on we go, his welfare is my concern, no burden is he to bear, he ain't heavy, he's my brother.

If I'm laden at all, I'm laden with sadness that everyone's heart isn't filled with the gladness of love for one another. It's a long, long road, from which there is no return, while we're on the way there, why not share and the load doesn't weigh me down at all.

StreetSmart hands over R60,000 in aid of vulnerable children in Plettenberg Bay

StreetSmart SA, an organisation dedicated to helping street children rebuild their lives R5 rand at a time through donations from restaurants, accommodation establishments and wine tasting venues in the Western Cape, Garden Route and Gauteng, has handed over R60,000 to organisations caring for Plettenberg Bay's most vulnerable children. The handover took place at Nguni Restaurant, in Plettenberg Bay.

This grand effort is part of the total StreetSmart allocation of over R1 million for 2020 distributed nationally to 38 programmes working with children at risk.

The two Plettenberg Bay beneficiaries are Home from Home – Bitou Family Care and Masizame Project. The organisations will use the funds respectively for social work supervision and the salary of a family reunification worker.

StreetSmart is a community initiative that raises funds for programmes that support social normalisation of vulnerable and street children making a real difference to their lives, in partnership with restaurants, accommodation establishments and wine tasting venues. Funds are raised by adding a R5 donation to each patron's bill. This donation is voluntary and donors are able to contribute more if they wish to. With this generous gesture, StreetSmart establishments and their guests are real change makers in their own communities.

Most of our guests love donating to StreetSmart, especially when they understand that the donations support local organisations that help street and vulnerable children in Plett. Our return guests often prompt us to remember to add StreetSmart to their bill and then they add much more than just R5. Our waiters push it and it is good to be part of this wonderful initiative," says Amber Ollewagen, Manager at The Fat Fish Restaurant.

Jacqui Carter-Johnson of Nguni Restaurant had this to add: "It is important to know that the StreetSmart donations are actually being managed very well and stay in Plett. Moreover, giving beggars money is not doing them any favours, it just keeps them on the streets. So many people want to give extra - it is amazing how people ask for an extra R100 to be put on the bill."

The 176 000 hectare
Greater Addo Elephant National Park is the third largest National Park in Southern Africa.

The variety of wildlife found in the Park is astounding, with 417 species of birds, 95 kinds of mammals, including the Big 5
and of course the 600 elephants that roam there,
it is an absolute treat for nature lovers.

MORNING GAME DRIVE

Strand P.E between 06h00 - 06h30*

Duration of Game Drive 07h00 - 12h00
We enter the Park through the Addo Colchester Gate, Camp Matyholweni.
The first few hours are good to see antelope, zebra and some of the cats. Between 09h00 and 09h30 we serve a delicious continental breakfast in the picnic area.
Usually one has good sightings of elephants and buffalo after 10h00 nearer the waterholes. We return to the Gate around 12h00 and then back to the Guest House. Refreshments are available throughout the drive.

AFTERNOON GAME DRIVE

stop mid-afternoon at a disembarkment point or picnic area for teas, coffee, refreshments, scones and snacks. The latter part of the afternoon is usually good for antelope and the illusive rhino.
The Park has thick bush and offers an abundance of birds, tortoise, dung beetles and other creatures.

Winner of PAWS raffle for painting.

Our recent Plett Open Garden day was enjoyed by 280 visitors and we raised over R38 000 for PAWS on the day, although the weather was not ideal for visiting gardens. This was down on last year's visitor numbers and income, but we are delighted at the positive feedback about this annual event. The raffle for a painting by David Hall-Green is a part of this event and made an important contribution to the total income. This year's winner is who is still to decide the subject of the painting. Thanks to all who bought raffle tickets and better luck next time!

I do understand

It's fine I understand,
The way you rule my life.
Push my tears to,
Fall down my chin.
I do understand the way you feel,
Push things the way you like, tell me what it's all about.
When things goes wrong, pull along your way. Pillar's shake on earth, rebuild anger and destructions.
I do understand, all purpose of life reputations and rhyme,
I do understand ruler of my life.
