Each of us is born with a life purpose. Identifying, acknowledging and honouring that purpose is perhaps the important action successful people take.

- JACK CANFIELD

On Purpose
dare to be you

Strengths & Careers Workshop Kids ages 10 - 18 years

For too long parents, teachers and society have focused on identifying and fixing "kids" weaknesses to improve academic performance.

What if every child can find success in school, their relationships and life if we start focusing on the strengths they have, rather than on what they lack. Every child is beautiful, talented, and gorgeous. Its just where?

Research shows that only 2 out of 10 people get to play to their strengths. Life is too short to be one of the 8 that get stuck doing what they can just to make it through another day.

Be bold and take the step.

Discovering your strengths is a rewarding process if you know what to look for. Every action respectful or defiant, in and out of the classroom, provides an opportunity to discover a person's unique set of strengths. The boy who is scolded for speaking out in class, may have untapped potential for debate. The girl who is more engaged on the tennis court than the classroom may have a hidden knack for physics. A child drawn to one activity or household chore over another is driven by natural inclinations that can be identified and applied to schoolwork.

Dr Ross will show you how to make such connections in everyday life, and in turn help kids implement the strengths they reveal in school, their relationships, life, and future career.

Parents don't we all want our children to be seen and valued for who they are and the unique gifts they bring to this world?

Cost R 900 per student
- cost includes psychometric strength assessment, workshop, and parent group feedback. Strength assessment done online prior to workshop.

Date Monday 24 April 6pm-9pm
kids' workshop
(Parent feedback to be arranged)
Session 1 kids Workshop

CHATTERBOX - 2023 Back on the road with Parkinson's.

I did Chatterbox from 2011 when Charmaine asked me to. It was a long time but I loved it. Well this is my first chatterbox for five years I have told people on Facebook what went wrong with me I'm actually have quite a lot of things went wrong with me. I lost quite a few members of my family and including my precious mum, who is still heavily on my mind. I had to put down my precious Poppet, and then I was diagnosed with Parkinson's disease.

Against Beloveds wishes I was advised by my friends that it would be the best thing for me to get another little companion, and went and ordered my little Cassie. guess who loves her more than anyone else I love it when I see him playing with her at every opportunity. She has been an amazing companion and I wouldn't do without her and she has also starred in Facebook many times in fact from her birth and she really is a darling little girl. She is incredibly clever and she's only nine months old now but she can do things that the other dogs couldn't. I took her to a dog trainer who couldn't make head or tail of her. She told me that obviously my dog and had a bad background and I said impossible because she came from a breeder and I got her from when she was a couple of weeks old so it's got nothing to do with her background. Beloved has sorted her out and she can do anything now, she can go for walks now with her harness and lead on and walks around the estate, head held high and Beloved whispering sweet nothings to her. Her I have got another little trick up my sleeve. Because of my Parkinsons, my hands are becoming very stiff and weak so I've had my computer changed to suit my condition. When I was crystal clear that I had Parkinson's it was a great shock and it came very soon after mums leaving me so in I've been in a real mess but I've had so many requests to start CHATTERBOX again so here I am. When I was first diagnosed with Parkinson is I just went into a hole and didn't see anybody anywhere I am much better now in that way. When the Parkinson's was diagnosed I came out of hospital and sent e-mails telling everyone who was interested the whole story. I don't know why people hide their diseases because the problem is that everybody gets to hear it and phones you and wants to hear the whole story and I just couldn't face that I wanted them to know straight away and then that was all over. Now I'm pouring out of my house or I'm seeing people again and even having a few drinks and I'll even tell some stories although my voice is on growl day. Just to share my interest in Parkinsons is and to learn more about it I have gone to join Maurice van handle and to mix with people who have it. Then we all sit around and discuss all the aches and pains we get at times and how we deal with the symptoms and pain. Everyone is different, so as I sit around with my 'carer Lara', everyone has a carer or a wife, then hopefully I'll get some hot tips. You know, how did yours start, how do you get up and down off the floor, medication and some of people's voices have got really soft and it's quite scary to think that that probably will happen to me at some stage and I know that you know I have a very loud voice. My friends have been amazing helping me out of my chair and leading me to my car. Lots of love to my old and new friends and speak to you next week.
