UnCommon Sense

By Rose Scott

Rise Like a Phoenix

"What we do does not define us, but what does is how we rise when we fall."

While the last two years have been traumatic for many people worldwide, as a professional in the financial sector I have experienced many close encounters with businesses, employees and other stakeholders that have been distressing.

Business owners who went out on a financial limb to continue to cover operating costs when no revenue was flowing, employees who have been retrenched and most likely will not find alternative employment, families who have lost all their material possessions and even family and friends of people I know and love who have chosen to end their lives. I can only hope that the way I have had as many blessings in the intervening time as I have had trials from a professional perspective. People have rallied to support others where they can, a meal, a hug, a slow but determined rise from being driven to their knees. To have a "front row seat" from which to observe people slowly paying off debt, growing their business with greater compassion and care and treating the staff that they employ like family is a true privilege and inspiration. I dedicate this column to those who have not been protected by financial privilege or comfort, or close family relations for displaying the courage, determination, tenacity and hope to "white knuckle" life's challenges to smile, to serve, to grow and to recover (within the confines of woodshedding). I salute those who, like the phoenix of legend, are rising from the ashes. My hope for you is that you value the resilience and strength of character that you display like medals of honour, perhaps even without realising it. It is in observing how these people rise that I find the will and hope to do the same. As I often say, if you want to go fast, go alone. If you want to go far go together. Thank you to those of you in our Plettenberg Bay community at large who have inspired me, and this column.

Anton: 082 878 4193 / Graeme 083 628 1648

A word fitly spoken is like APPLES OF GOLD in a setting of silver-Proverbs 25v11

One of my favourite verses is Proverbs 27v17 "Iron sharpens iron, and one man sharpens another." At first glance, this seems a strange analogy - we normally sharpen iron with a grinding stone. But here the thought is about the initial making of the knife, spear or arrow sharp and it involves a pounding by another piece of iron. This simple proverb teaches us that we need to be in a community of other believers and submit to positive and sometimes painful criticism to sharpen us and make us more effective in our Christian walk. In other words - be teachable.

This is further emphasised in verse 5 "Better is open rebuke than hidden love. Wounds from a friend can be trusted, but an enemy multiplies kisses". Unfortunately, our natural response is to get advice and guidance from those who tell us what we want to hear, but they are in fact our enemies. It is much better to accept Godly advice and guidance from true friends who care about us and have our best interests at heart even though they may "wound" us. We all need people who can help rub off our rough edges and who honestly have our best interests in mind when they do it. There are times when these sharpening conversations, even from loving friends, can come across as harsh, mean, or judgmental. But it definitely helps to know that these people care and that they have a genuine interest in helping us improve. It is so important for each of us to build growing relationships with others in life and to be teachable and in time teach others. In conclusion, it is perfectly summed up in Hebrews 10v25 "And let us consider how we may spur one another on towards love and good deeds, not giving up meeting together, as some are in the habit of doing, but encouraging one another - and all the more as you see the Day approaching." God Bless, Graeme Greenwood

the award of Knight of the Order of the Star of Italy

The ceremony took place at Enrico's restaurant in Keurbooms. The function was attended by over 60 people, including most of the local doctors and members of the Plett Italian community.

The Order of the Star of Italy (Ordine della Stella d'Italia) is a civilian award meant to honour Italian expatriates who have contributed to the promotion of Italy's national prestige in their adopted countries.

The Knighthood is conferred by the President of the Republic of Italy.

Last year 160 Italian expatriates throughout the world received this prestigious award.

The motivations for the award read: Dr Coci was the first Italian South African to become a specialist physician and to be admitted to the Royal College of Physicians of London.

He has been actively involved in assisting members of the Italian communities in South Africa and neighbouring countries.
For many years he was the medical consultant to the Embassy of Italy in South Africa For most of the Covid pandemic he was the only physician in Plettenberg Bay. In spite of the high risk, he elected to look after all the Covid patients admitted to the local hospital and the intensive care unit. Drawing from this experience he wrote a paper on "Covid complications seen at a small hospital in South Africa" which was published by the South African Medical Journal.

Dr Coci has been instrumental in promoting Italian culture in South Africa and has given several lectures on Italian history.
