Strengths Workshop Plett 2023 Kids ages 10 - 18 years

For too long parents, teachers and society have focused on identifying and fixing "kids" weaknesses to improve academic performance.

What if every child can find success in school, their relationships and life if we start focusing on the strengths they have, rather than on what they lack. Every child is beautiful, talented, and gorgeous. Its just where?

Research shows that only 2 out of 10 people get to play to their strengths. Life is too short to be one of the 8 that get stuck doing what they can just to make it through another day. Be bold and take the step.

Discovering your strengths is a rewarding process if you know what to look for. Every action respectful or defiant, in and out of the classroom, provides an opportunity to discover a person's unique set of strengths. The boy who is scolded for speaking out in class, may have untapped potential for debate. The girl who is more engaged on the tennis court than the classroom may have a hidden knack for physics. A child drawn to one activity or household chore over another is driven by natural inclinations that can be identified and applied to schoolwork.

Dr Ross will show you how to make such connections in everyday life, and in turn help kids implement the strengths they reveal in school, their relationships, life, and future career.

Parents don't we all want our children to be seen and valued for who they are and the unique gifts they bring to this world?

Cost R 900 per student – cost includes psychometric strength assessment, workshop, and parent group feedback. Strength assessment done online prior to workshop.

A word fitly spoken is like APPLES OF GOLD in a setting of silver-Proverbs 25v11

Over the past weeks we have seen how our natural character flaws as detailed in Galatians 5 v19-21: hatred, discord, jealousy, fits of rage, selfish ambition, dissensions, factions and envy are in constant conflict with the fruits of the Holy Spirit as listed in verse 22: love, joy, peace, long-suffering, kindness, goodness, faithfulness, gentleness and self-control. Christians can only win this war if we are prepared to submit to the Holy Spirit as He seeks to make us more Christ-like. Today we look at the war in our souls between envy and self-control. Envy leads to discontentment which affects our relationship with our fellow men and women and worse still with the Lord. It is a cancer which grows and grows if not cut out and is the root cause of many anti-social behaviours. So why do we persist in allowing envy to consume us and rob us of peace, joy and love? Because we hate the fruit of the Spirit called self-control because we have this perception that cultivating self-control means we become a severe and cold person without emotion and feeling- nothing can be further from the truth! Jesus was the perfect example of somebody who was self-controlled, yet He wept, had compassion for those who were suffering and even loved those who hated Him. So, what is self-control? It means choosing to control our thoughts, words and actions so we love, honour and glorify God and love our neighbour as ourselves. In other words, thinking less of self and more of others. Self-control is a gift from God to keep us from harming our bodies, minds and souls and keeps us safe from envy and its negative consequences. So fellow Christian we should be thankful to the Lord for the Holy Spirit who wants to produce more and more of the fruit of self-control in our lives. Are we willing to let Him do so? Amen, Graeme Greenwood

CHATTERBOX - I AM AN IDIOT WHEN IT COMES TO COMPUTERS.

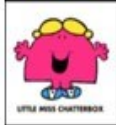

Did you hear what all these people said, the ones all sitting around here having coffee at our breakfast island, that I'm an idiot and that we can add beloved, as he couldn't help me with this new Apple iPad? Having spoken to my computer man he said that he is not able to help me and that I need to find somebody who understands Apple. At that moment my girlfriend and her husband popped in and she works with computers all day as a secretary so I jumped on her with glee, as she surely can show me the way. I might add that it took her a while to understand this Apple iPad. Once she got the hang of it she was a star and so she managed to help me a great deal for which I'm very grateful and all I had to give her as a present, was an old wrinkled apple which she rejected, but I had used her knowledge and rewarded the two of them with a cup of cappuccino.

I even put in an advert on Facebook asking for somebody to come and give me a few lessons. It's very hard to find somebody who understands that I cannot memorise things and that I need help with them writing down the knowledge which unfortunately my divine computer man does not understand.

Today is Saturday and I am very happy to say that we got rain at last. I can't tell you that we had a decent amount of rain we had enough to save our plants from dying in front of our eyes. Beloved is still so sick he's had it for ten days now, and looks like a dogs breakfast. And because he insists on going out to the polo farm to help them sort out the fields he returns hours later and straight to bed and a bunch of pills. Now we have to hope that I don't get this flu as believe it or not with everything else, I also have asthma and 1 1/2 lungs.

It's quite a cold day today, so for the first time we can wear our jerseys which have been resting in our cupboards for months. Somehow in summer I do manage to wear a jacket or two but that is easy to take off.

As a final bit of news these friends of ours have a farm in the Eastern Cape and they have amongst other things, like cattle, they used to have a game farm where they bred buffalo! In the old days buffalo were worth a fortune, currently buffalo prices have dropped hugely. Now they live here in Plett, I really like them and wish them all the best in our little town. All the best to my faithful fans, and newbies. Bye from CHATTERBOX
